"CONFESSIONS" FAIL TO CLEAR CRIME

Today
WASHINGTON'S DAY.
HAVE WE OUTGROWN HIM.
AN ENGLISH TRIBUTE.
THEY PULLED HER HEAD OFF
—By Arthur Brisbane—(Copyright 1929 By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON'S birthday reminds us that we have grown too wise to need his advice. He urged us to keep out of European entanglements.
Uncle Sam is in Europe's affairs
now up to his armpits.
He will soon be in the world court.
He submits to England's humble requests that he be allowed to build certain ships, and England says no.
Even now America is considered an agreement under which we should be obliged to defend France in case she were attacked by some European enemy.
Soon we shall have foreign judges
of the world court giving us orders.

WASHINGTON USED to speak
his mind plainly. His commanding of Mr. Braddock, was killed near Washington, was now Pittsburgh because he foolishly despised French and Indian fighters, engaging them in the forest with English "regulars."
Washington, who got four bullets in his coat, wrote soon after the battle:
"The dastardly behavior of those they called regulars exposed all others to almost certain death, and at last they ran, as sheep pursued by dogs."

What would Washington say to American leaders now for feeling the independence which he won, submitting to British approval our right to adequate national defense.
He might well put his comment in few words, as:
"Are you bought, or are you aware, that you cannot do with 120,000,000 men what I did with fewer than 4,000,000 men?"

THE TRUTHFUL ANSWER would be: "A little of both, something of the coward and some indirect help by international bankers."

IT IS CUSTOMARY to eulogize Washington on his birthday and forget him between birthdays.
Washington, being out of fashion
among modern American "statesmen," let us borrow praise of him
from an Englishman.

Lord Brougham, one of the most brilliant orators, scientists and statesmen of the last century, wrote:
"After grateful the relief which the friend of mankind, the lover of virtue, when, turning from the contention of a character (Napoleon),
his eye rests upon the greatest man of our own or any age... It will be the duty of the historian and the sage,
in all ages, to omit no occasion of commemorating this illustrious man;
and until time shall be no more, will be a test of the progress which our race has made in wisdom and virtue be derived from the veneration paid to the immortal name of Washington."

That is what you might call a tribute.

The British had in their history such a man as Washington, they could not scorn
his advice. Even without him, they know enough to manage their own affairs and do not come trucking to us, asking permission to build a ship.
They leave that to modern soft-soap American imitations of Washington. It is almost enough to make you think it was Washington's English
blood, not his American birth, training and surroundings that made him what he was.

APART FROM ALL that, there is,
with one exception, nothing in the news to interfere with your enjoyment of a Washington holiday, in a land that thinks it has outgrown Washington.

JUST ONE PIECE OF news
makes unpleasant reading. Mrs.
Duggan, not long ago killed an Arizona rancher. He was rather old.
The defense said he was given to change, and planned to put Mrs.
Duggan off his ranch, bringing in a younger woman from Phoenix.
Women are touchy about such things, especially as the years creep
on. Mrs. Duggan killed him.

YESTERDAY ARIZONA killed her. She was hanged, and with the rope around her neck, smiled and shook hands with those about to kill her.

It was not a neat job, the rope pulled her head from her body.
You could say for the woman that jealousy and rage probably made her mentally irresponsible.

What can you say for the "civilization" that choked her, and pulled off her head?

Briand May Represent France At London Parity Conference

DELEGATES SEE MORE ACCORD IN FUTURE MEETING

Actual Reductions Could Follow Choosing Of Great Diplomat

ADHERENTS FAVOR CUTTING TONNAGE

New Basis Would Come In Change; Demands To Be Expected

LONDON, Feb. 22.—The news
that Aristide Briand would return to the London naval conference as head of the French delegation if
M. Chautemps' cabinet is accepted by the chamber of deputies struck an optimistic note in conference circles today.
Many delegates viewed the return of the great statesman in a leading rather than secondary role, as a loophole through which the parity might be reverted to its original purpose—reduction.

M. Tardieu had demanded naval tonnage of approximately 725,000 tons by 1936 and thereby refused all to realize that the most to be hoped for from the conference negotiations was limitation which would lay the basis for actual reduction of the future.

With M. Briand at the parity representing a left wing group avid for naval reduction, however, hope was felt that the conference would accomplish the original purpose of President Hoover and Premier Mac-Donald after all.

No one looks for M. Briand to make concessions without getting them in return. He is too brilliant a negotiator for anything like that to happen. However, many feel he may acquiesce to cutting the French demands if Britain and America lower theirs and thereby permit a lesser French tonnage figure to still represent adequate protection for the French colonial empire in the eyes of French citizens.

YOUTH INDICTED ON DEATH COUNT

First-Degree Charges To Be Filed Against Two
In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Feb. 22.—George Williams, 68, and his youthful companion in crime, Charles Hanovich, 22, were indicted on charges of first-degree murder here in the death of Carl Sherman, patrolman who was murdered here a year ago.
The indictments included a count of killing a policeman, making the only possible sentence on conviction
the electric chair or life imprisonment.

Williams and Hanovich will be arraigned here Monday before Common Pleas Judge George P. Baer.

The pair are also accused of the murder of Justus Brown, Columbus grocer, and complicity in the murders of four other persons. Williams and Hanovich are also believed connected with approximately 300 unsolved robberies, including bank holdups.

Bill Radebaugh and selection will be made within the next two weeks.

games here. Rose has had no experience as a cheer leader but has been active in intramural athletic events at Ohio State during his three years in school.

fiddlers, novelty musicians,
vocal artists and piano players have made application to broadcast in Salem next week
and be heard over the giant Phileo radio which will be at the intersection of Lincoln

No charges are being made for the broadcast privilege.

Those who wish to apply

so by stating the nature of their performances, where they can be reached, in order that the studio director can notify them of their time,
and the time that they can appear on the air.

This must be in writing to

ARIZONA HANGING DRAWS CRITICISM

Execution Bungled Claim
of Former Prison Head; Gives Reason

PHOENIX, ARIZ., Feb. 22.—Eva Duggan's hanging at the Arizona state prison at Florence, declared in a statement by former Prison Warden Robert P. Sims, to have been bungled, today precipitated what was expected to be a statewide demand for Arizona's second abolition of capital punishment.

Sims declared that inasmuch as the Arizona law decrees hanging, the death of Mrs. Duggan by virtual decapitation in the death house,
was probably illegal.

The former warden attributed the
"atrocious horror" to inexperience
of the prison officials.

Mrs. Duggan was executed yesterday for the murder of A. J. Mathis, elderly rancher, whose housekeeper
she had been. The state contended Mrs. Duggan killed Mathis so that he might take his money, his automobile and other effects.

Arizona repealed its capital punishment provisions by initiative and referendum in November, 1916 and after a "chapter of horrors" caused by a sudden increase in murders, reinstated the hanging law at the election held in November, 1918.

Elaborating his declaration that the execution was bungled, Sims
said:

"This never could have happened
if the distance of the drop had been properly computed in reference to the weight of the body. It is also evident that the rope was not properly seasoned. The rope should be soaked in water and stretched for 30 days with a weight heavier than that of the person to be hanged."

severe burns received while he was

Woman Lauds Characteristics Of Washington In Radio Talk

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The unselfishness, modesty, kindness and reverence that comprised the character of George Washington, was described by Mrs. Lowell Fletcher Hobart, president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution in a radio address for the National Radio Homemakers' club, Friday.

"Washington's most momentous question, and admonishing
us now, is why, by interweaving our destiny with that of any part of Europe, entangle our peace and prosperity in the toils
of European ambition, rivalry, interest, humor or caprice," said
Mrs. Hobart.

As Washington left, Mr. Vernon to accept the presidency.
Mrs. Hobart recalled, his friends and neighbors at Alexandria announced:

GROVER DISAPPEARS
THURSDAY MORNING

Fear Ohio Merchant Is Foul Play Victim;
Gone Two Days

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 22.—
The strange disappearance of Charles L. McElroy, 52, South Side grocer, who disappeared
Thursday morning, became more baffling tonight after a police search of Mahoning and Columbiana counties failed to reveal any traces of him.

McElroy left his store at 11:30
in his automobile to collect a bill, and planned to return in time to attend a luncheon at Hotel Ohio.
He never reached his destination.

Police believe McElroy picked up a "hitch-hiker" and was waylaid
somewhere off the Youngstown-Pittsburgh road.

When he left the store McElroy had only a small bit of change. His route to the debtor's home took him past a rendezvous of "hitch-hikers."

The man's health was good and his business prosperous, the family says.

He was an official in the Optimist club, a Mason and a former president of the local grocer's association.

McElroy's habit of punctuality
makes his disappearance more serious. He always telephoned his home when he was to be a half an hour late.

Deputies scoured highways and byways in the two counties in hopes of finding his automobile. Word of his disappearance was broadcast and relayed to the Pennsylvania state police.

DRIVER FREED OF ALL BLAME

Police Not To Hold Man
After Investigation
Of Mishap

A four-year-old daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. John Farnus, Aetna st., is in Central Clinic hospital, suffering from injuries sustained as a result of being struck by an automobile
here Wednesday afternoon.

The child sustained a fractured leg, bruises about the body and lacerations about the head and face.
The auto was operated by Albert
Call, R. F. D. 1, Lisbon.

Patrolman Ralph Steffer conducted investigations of the accident for the past two days and reported today that Call would not be held liable for responsibility in the accident.

The child, witnesses told the patrolman, rushed in to the middle of the street directly into the path of the car. Call stopped his machine within a short distance, picked up the child and carried it to the Far-nus home.

Call told Steffer when questioned Friday afternoon, that he had believed the child was suffering only from slight shock and was not injured seriously at the time he picked her up.

ranks. They carried placards which read: "Work or wages."

The communist mob was organized in front of a union hall where almost a thousand attended a meeting presided over by Nels Kjar, sec-

Associated Press benefits are confined entirely to its membership, but inasmuch as this comprises 1,200 newspapers throughout North and South America, its scope is wide and it is an invaluable service to many millions.

Because Associated Press papers embrace every shade of po-

free from bias or partisanship and gives a true picture of daily lives of the people of the world, upon which News readers may form their own opinions and conclusions.

The name, Associated Press, was adopted 82 years ago when a group of newspapers banded together for news gathering. In unbroken sequence, but with changes in method and form of organiza-

INSURGENTS GET RAP FROM HOUSE

Senatorial Clique Given
Criticism by Speaker
From Bay State

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The insurgent Republican-Democratic coalition in the senate was rapped in the house Friday by Rep. Treadway
(R) of Massachusetts, who declared that business has been unsettled by delay in enacting a tariff bill.

Exonerating the house of charges that "this is a do-nothing congress" he said that blame should be placed in the senate where it belongs.

He urged the progressive Republicans to "return to the party which in name they owe allegiance."
"I look to see common sense eventually prevail and a tariff bill passed which will in large measure do justice to all sections of our country," he said.

Treadway defended President
Hoover's leadership after the stock market crisis of last fall. Admitting there is unemployment he said depression exists in the textile industries.

HANNAH SILENT ON DISPOSITION OF BOY'S BODY

Admits Murder, Entangles
Others, Then Frees
From Blame

GRAVE OF CHILD STILL A MYSTERY

No Death Charges Have Been Filed As Yet;
Evidence Lack

WOOSTER, O., Feb. 22.—Where is the body of Melvin Horst, the 4-year-old lad who disappeared from his home at Orrville, near here, the evening of December 27, 1928?

Despite the fact Charles Hannah has confessed that he caused the death of the boy, Wayne county officials are confronted today—nearly 14 months after the youngster dropped from sight—with what is still the most baffling murder
mystery in Ohio's criminal annals.

Hannah, in his first "confession," accused a joint suspect, Earl Conald, with the killing of the boy.
Conald, likewise in custody for investigation, claimed Hannah was the slayer of Melvin Hannah, in subsequent "confessions," alleged Conald had buried the body, first telling officials the body was in one place, and later advising them it was in another place. It was never found.

Finally, Hannah, in what appeared to be his real confession, admitted the killing and absolved Conald. At the same time he declared he had delivered Melvin's body—after he had brutally battered him over the head with a two-by-four—to two alleged Akron bootleggers—for 25 gallons of bootleg whiskey. He claimed he didn't know what disposition was made of the body.

In another "confession" yesterday, Hannah admitted he didn't even know the two Italians whom he had implicated in his crime. They were then released.

Hannah was rigorously grilled again, but if he made any more
"confessions," the weary investigators had not made them public today.

The 61-year-old Orrville man has assumed all responsibility for the cruel slaying.

FOUR KILLED IN GAS EXPLOSION

Old Railroad Station Is Wrecked by Blast;
Fire Follows

NEW CASTLE, PA., Feb. 22.—
Four unidentified men were killed instantly today when a terrific explosion and fire demolished the abandoned Pennsylvania railroad
passenger station at Edensburg, west of this city.

The explosion is believed to have resulted from the ignition of accumulated gasoline vapors in the old station which was used as a storage place for gasoline.

All of the men are believed to have entered the station to procure gasoline when the blast let go.
County Coroner J. P. Caldwell
said the men either had been killed instantly in the blast or had been so badly injured that they were unable to escape from the blazing structure and had perished in the flames.

UNFAVORABLE PROPAGANDA

The attitude toward aviation in the World War is recalled by the announcement that surviving American aviators in that conflict will meet next week in Chicago. The handful of men who gather there will represent a tense period in the history of aviation.

Flying provided the most colorful phase of a conflict which was hopelessly drab from the viewpoint of the common soldier. High above the plodding figures of the ground fighters, the knights of the air swooped and zoomed to glorious victory or to spectacular defeat. Often engaged in single combat, the aviator was a remaining symbol of the glory of war—a hero to the men who watched him from the trenches below and to those at home who heard of his daring escapes with shining eyes and pounding hearts. Artists and writers seized upon this one splash of color and made of it a potent piece of war propaganda.

The results were excellent, for they brought to aviation daring and adventurous types. Consequently the business of flying became more and more dangerous, only mitigated by the mechanical advances indicated by the rigorous tests of combat. The world, made impressionable by the excitement of war, came to regard flying as hazardous and the casualty lists strengthened their belief.

Today the emphasis has been shifted. Every attempt is made to eliminate danger in flying. Killing is no longer the goal; it is safety now. But traditions die hard and those people who first knew of aviation during the war are afraid to trust themselves to the air. Parents do not encourage their sons and daughters to learn aviation; many of them bear in their heart the scars of dear ones killed in the air. Flying still is an adventure despite the well-known persons who have taken it up successfully.

The World War will go down in history as the turning point of aeronautical progress but it was also a retarding factor. Aviation will only become common-place when a new generation grows up that has never heard of a Fokker, Guynemer or a Rickenbacker.

It is difficult to credit the wire from San Francisco that Maurice Chevalier is confined to his hotel by an attack of influenza. Influenza in California! Impossible!

Nine gang shootings, seven of them fatal, have occurred in Chicago in seven days. The crime situation seems to be adjusting itself there, aided by the city's financial condition.

What Others Say

PERILOUS PANTHER HUNTING
 Panther hunting around Washington has become perilous. The panther itself—if there be one, which is not assured—is not the element of danger. It is whatever it may be, has supposedly destroyed some livestock, particularly pigs. It has not attacked humans. It has most particularly avoided encountering humans. It is a more elusive beast.

But the panther hunters are themselves the source of danger. They are shooting promiscuously and rather wildly. Already two casualties are attributed to panther hunters, fortunately neither very grave, though one might have been a fatality but for the slender margin of space in the direction of the shot.

Inexperienced gunmen are out on the panther trail, with pistols and larger weapons, some old guns, some new. Inasmuch as the panther is, in its real character, a rather awesome beast, the hunting this particular "critter" is calculated to try the nerves of those who go forth on the trail, especially as most of them have never had any experience whatever in the pursuit of feline game. In such conditions guns are likely to be prematurely fired, or recklessly aimed. With a "jumpy" gunner anything may happen in the dark.

It is really about time to call off the hunt. It has been a provokingly unproductive one. It has yielded nothing in results, save disappointments. It has come close to taking two human lives. Let those who have poultry and stock to lose to the night prowler safeguard their property. Panthers can not perform miracles of breaking and entering, as the indigent says. But even so it is far better to lose a few chickens or even pigs than to have to hold inquests over dead people, slain in the hunt of something that may after all be only visionary, the creation of an inflated imagination.—Washington Star.

The Stars Say

For Sunday, February 23
 Sunday's horoscope is encouraging for social, domestic and cultural pursuits and avocations, but other affairs may be fraught with perplexity and sudden change, although employment is not seriously jeopardized, and may offer emolument.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a year of many conflicting conditions. Employment, some business ventures and personal affairs may thrive with wise management. A child born on this day may be versatile and clever, succeeding best in employment.

For Monday, February 24
 Monday's astrological forecast is not an entirely propitious one. Pleasant, and possibly unusually lively personal affairs may offset difficult business and financial circumstances.

Those whose birthday it is may find their personal affiliations lively and pleasant enough to negative certain business complications and anxieties. A child born on this day may be brilliant and have a very interesting career.

LIVE WISELY AND WIN
CLEAR, PERFECT SKIN

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
 (United States Senator from New York)

It is amazing how few faces show anything like perfect skin. You may look around you and see a surprising number that are not really clean. It is not until you really experiment a bit to find out for yourself how much dirt and grime can accumulate on the complexion that you are convinced that one face can hold so much.

Cleanliness of the skin is absolutely essential to good health. The face, and every part of the body, should be washed with a soothing, mild soap and plenty of warm water every day. The face should be washed much more than once a day, particularly if you live in the city. The dirt and bacteria of the air are constantly falling on the face and lodging there. The natural oil of the skin catches and holds them.

The skin is protection to the machinery of the body, the machinery that does the hourly and daily work of life. A clean skin is essential to the physical welfare. It must be kept in good condition if we are to have good health.

The skin is the point of discharge of many of the wastes and poisons of the body. They are gotten rid of through the moisture and perspiration. If the pores of the skin are clogged up with dirt, then ventilation and the life processes are retarded.

There is no doubt that many persons use the wrong kind of soap. A too strong soap is bad for the skin. It contains an excess of alkali, and dissolves the necessary oils of the skin. Some persons do not use any soap. Yet it is impossible to clean the skin properly without the use of soap.

After thoroughly washing the face, it is well to massage into the skin a good cold cream. Then wipe it off, in order to remove any deep-seated dirt from the pores of the skin. It should not be washed off. Enough of the oil is then left on the skin to nourish the tissues, and to keep the skin flexible.

The skin has a certain amount of oil to make it impervious to infection from bacteria from without. But you are not safe from infection of one kind or another unless you do keep the skin perfectly clean. For the face, especially, as I said before, a mild soap is the best to use. In winter, if very warm water is used on the face, it is wise to apply cold water before wiping the face, if one is going out-of-doors immediately. In this way, "the pores of the skin are closed" and chapping is not apt to follow.

Whiskey for Colds No Crime

Miss M. Louise Gross, national chairman of the Woman's Moderation Union, tells the House Judiciary Committee that the majority of the American women cannot be made to believe it is a crime to "add a little brandy in making mince pie" or to "administer a hot lemonade with a little whiskey to a member of her family who is suffering with a bad cold."

"Family Taxicabs" Sought In Paris

PARIS—Feb. 2.—Paris may soon see taxi-cabs specially constructed for big families. A municipal councillor is indignant because a chauffeur at the Gare du Nord refused to take on a "famille nombreuse" consisting of the couple and their five young ones. Technically, the chauffeur was right, for it is forbidden to take on more than four or five passengers. But of course all the little ones would have weighed much less than one or two fat French gourmands.

This will be one more way of trying to persuade the average Frenchman that it is really cheaper in the end to have six youngsters than two. There are cheaper tickets on the railways for big families and it will probably not be long before they can be transported by bus, tramway or taxi at lower rates.

Gavel To Make Rounds Of Columbiana County Granges

Pomona grange will present a gavel to the Columbiana grange unit making the best record during the current inspection season. H. E. Williams, Deputy Master for Columbiana county will first present the gavel to Pleasant Valley grange, the oldest grange in the county at its meeting March 5 which is to be held in the Kensington grange hall.

The program for this meeting is being arranged by Pomona grange.

Pleasant Valley grange will then carry the gavel to Mt. Nebo grange, the second oldest grange in the county, and when the program for that event will be presented by the visiting grange.

The gavel is then to be taken to the next oldest grange by Mt. Nebo grange, and this routine will follow until the gavel has appeared in every grange hall in the county. At each meeting, the visiting grange will have charge of the program.

Police Search For 12-Yr-Old Bandit

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 22.—A 12-year-old boy, believed to be one of the youngest bandits ever wanted here, in connection with a hold-up, is being sought by Columbus police today.

The youthful robber, and his companion, who was about 22 years old, entered a confectionery late last night, and while the elder covered Charles L. Kibler with a gun, the little fellow rifled the cash register of $30 in a most business-like fashion.

No customer was in the store at the time.

in existence, whether all of them believed in some of the laws or not, he believed this doctrine essential to the very existence of a free republic—and he was right.

Militant Ideas

Rep. George Holden Tinkham (R) of Massachusetts, a militant anti-prohibitionist, who believes present conditions disgraceful, said:

"George Washington's life was dedicated to the independence of his country and the liberty of its citizens. He was willing to give his life if need be that tyranny and oppression should be forever ended in America."

"No one can read the debates in the constitutional convention over which he presided and which established our form of government, without coming to the inescapable conclusion that he believed that government existed first and foremost for the preservation of the rights and liberty of the individual. It is inconceivable that with his character and philosophy he would subscribe to the present government by coercion and espionage."

"If there was one man in our history who believed in individualism, in the placing of responsibility upon the individual and holding the individual responsible for its exercise, it was Washington."

"Should George Washington return to the United States today, the one thing he would not understand would be the present perversion of our constitution by the eighteenth amendment. I cannot conceive that he would not lead the gathering forces against compulsory prohibition."

Dry Gives Views

Heaven these two utterly divergent views came that of Senator R. P. Howell (R) Nebraska, a dry, but a dry who is wholly dissatisfied with prohibition "as is," and who has had a considerable part in calling attention to its present shortcomings from the enforcement standpoint.

Senator Howell said: "I don't believe, on the whole, that there is any more lawlessness or disrespect for law today than there was in Washington's time. As existence becomes more complex, there are greater efforts to violate regulations, because the regulations are greater in number, and then, too, we have concentrated information concerning crimes every day over a vast area and affecting 150,000,000 people. All of this tends to make it appear we are more lawless than were our progenitors in Washington's day."

PITTSBURGH.—Tear gas is becoming increasingly popular. Recently police used this means to disperse a violent mob of 1500 here after clubs proved of no avail.

New Chief Justice Leaving White House

Charles Evans Hughes, recently confirmed as Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court, leaving the White House after calling to pay his respects to President Hoover. The new Chief Justice will assume his duties when the Supreme Court reconvenes Monday.

Warm Wave To Be At End Shortly

CLEVELAND, Feb. 22.—"Relief" from the balmy weather which has turned the fancies of northern Ohioans to spring during the last few days, was promised by official weather prognosticators here today.

"Slightly cooler and probable showers," was the prediction which dampened the hopes that anyone might have entertained for an early spring.

The highest temperature recorded during the premature warm spell, was 68.

Fruit growers in northern Ohio reported today that trees in their orchards have budded prematurely. They expressed fears that the unreasonable balmy weather will damage the fruit crop considerably.

Psittachosis Closes "Parrot College"

BROWNSVILLE, TEX., Feb. 22.—Psittachosis and the United States resultant embargo on the importation of parrots may result in the closing of what is probably this country's only "parrot college."

Established years ago, the "college" was the schooling place for thousands of parrots brought from Mexico each year. In its "classroom" the young birds learned their words and phrases, chiefly from phonograph records which ground out continual strings of the things parrots should memorize.

W. A. "Snake" King, owner and operator of the institution, declares that Mexican parrots, the only kind he imports, are not subject to psittachosis—but a lot of good the assertion does him. He sees a dark future for the parrot business.

Brownsville has been one of the largest parrot importing points in the United States.

Spanish War Hero Joins Vet Society

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22.—Capt. Richmond Pearson Hobson, one of the most colorful heroes of the Spanish-American war, has been initiated into the Spanish-American War Veterans.

Hobson distinguished himself when as a young naval officer he ran the Merrimac into the narrow entrance of Santiago bay and sank it to blockade Admiral Cervera's Spanish fleet.

Hobson has made his name in Los Angeles for the past five years devoting his energies to anti-narcotic crusades.

An extensive exhibit of modern fire fighting apparatus and equipment will be one of the features of the meeting.

Several hundred fire chiefs from all parts of Ohio are expected to attend the affair.

Scratches Monogram In Husband's Face

DALLAS, TEXAS, Feb. 22.—

"Aha," thought a Dallas woman when she picked a blonde hairpin from her husband's coat. She is a brunette and doesn't use pins, but, being broad-minded, remained quiet and became observant.

A week later she found an off-color lip-stick in hubby's bed. That is off-color as compared with the shade she used. So she scratched her monogram on hubby's face and to finish things up right, chewed on him a while.

"I defended myself," she told District Judge Royall R. Watkins when she asked for a divorce. Her husband grinned broadly as the decree was granted.

New England Town Without Excitement

CONTOCOCK, N. H., Feb. 22.—

The long dreary winter months are almost devoid of excitement in this town. Even the one source of amusement, the lone movie theater has been closed. Each long day begins and ends with the same monotonous routine of the inhabitants.

To stir up a bit of diversion, the Rev. O. M. Polhemus, pastor of the Methodist church has conceived the idea of making movies in the town and exhibiting them at a local hall. If the plan is successful, Contocock will again boast "movies" on Saturday night, and entirely of a home made nature. The scenes will be taken in and about Contocock and in which only natives of the town will participate.

Rev. Polhemus has procured a small movie camera and plans to start the venture by taking pictures of babies on parade, following it with pictures of school and social activities.

The pace-setters

KEEPING-UP-WITH-THE-JONESES is no mere vagary of the cartooner. It is an actual condition in every city, town, village and hamlet in this great country.

There is a Jones in every locality to set the pace. But the average Jones is not a rich man—far from it. He has a good job, he dresses well, he is a good talker and splendid company. Jones is always the gentleman, welcomed at business conventions, public dinners and social gatherings alike. Mrs. Jones is envied as a successful hostess. Every woman in her set, and out of it, seeks bids to her bridge parties and other social functions. Their home is cozy, tastefully furnished and provided with most of the modern conveniences.

"How do they do it?" ask the neighbors. "We have as much money as they. Socially we are their equals." But without seeming to try, without putting on any "dog," the Joneses set the pace just the same. They have learned from reading advertisements how to have many desirable things at little cost. They keep up to date on almost everything—just reading advertisements.

Keeping-up-with-the-Joneses is a comparatively easy matter—other things being equal. Read the advertisements regularly. Study them. Remember what you learn. Then, when you are in the market for anything, you will know, just as they do, what kind to buy. Soon you'll find yourself saving money, yet having more than you ever had. You'll find folks wondering how you do it. Oh, yes! It's fairly easy if you make the most of your opportunities.

Advertisements are opportunities — study them to your own advantage

Flappers Taboo As 1930 Wives-To-Be

The maid of 1930 expects much in the ideal boy friend she would have as a husband!

The boys will have nothing to do matrimonially with flappers! These conclusions were reached when Rev. Dr. James Whitcomb Brougher, pastor of the First Baptist church, asked 100 young people of his church to write out their idea of what an ideal partner would be like.

Here are ten of the principal qualifications of the ideal man as indicated by girls in Dr. Brougher's church:

1. Must show affection.
 2. Average good looks.
 3. Must have high ideals.
 4. Be intelligent.
 5. Attractive personality.
 6. Clean mind.
 7. Sincerity.
 8. Be a good provider.
 9. Healthy.
 10. Be polite and sociable.
- And here are what the boys want to find in their ideal girls:
1. Common sense.
 2. Good housekeeping ability.
 3. Sense of humor.
 4. Unspoiled.
 5. Good looking, but not a flapper.
 6. Be a home girl.
 7. Mustn't drink, smoke, or swear.
 8. Have personality, but be herself.
 9. Honest.
 10. Love children.

French Symbolism Seen In U. S. Poetry

PARIS, Feb. 22.—American poetry has been greatly influenced by French symbolism, declared Professor Rene Taupin in a thesis recently sustained at the Sorbonne.

If American poets are better ones it is because of Verlaine and Mallarme who served as a school of freedom with their reaction against realism and the theories of the Parnassians.

French writers, says the French professor, concerned themselves with general truths instead of realities and thus freed the chains which bound American poets before the war.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

The hatchet legend will not be buried ever—if the people who make favors and decorations can help it. For the hatchet and cherry tree still reign as symbols of Washington's birthday—and you can't have a proper holiday party without them. Either as table decorations, as containers for nuts and candies, or fashioned into more permanent favors, which small persons will delight in, if they are the guests.

If there's to be a party for small persons, then a menu which carries out the color scheme as much as possible, will be received with great enthusiasm. Of course, the red and white are comparatively easy, but nature doesn't supply food in blue. This difficulty, however, may be disposed of easily enough by using blue paper doilies under sherbet cups, or ice cream plates. What can't be colored in food may readily be obtained in paper.

An entree, for example, may consist of a canape of white bread, untoasted, lightly buttered, and spread with a bright red slice of tomato, resting on a blue paper doily. Pimiento is indispensable for a Washington's birthday dinner or luncheon. It can be cut with a scissors

VIENNA, Feb. 22.—A new cancer research institute, founded by the American millionaire E. Canning Childs, was opened recently in Vienna.

Its official name is: The Canning Childs Hospital for Research of International Diseases and Cancer. It is equipped with all necessary technical devices, including Roentgen, Radium, chemical and bacteriological laboratories, and is connected with a hospital containing 100 beds.

into stripes, or star-shapes, to serve as garnish with salad, meat, or entree. Maraschino cherries, cream cheese, chili sauce, red sweet peppers, fresh, canned raspberries or strawberries—are a few simple foods that will collaborate in the color scheme for the occasion.

Here are a few menu suggestions: Cream of Tomato Soup Chartreuse of Rice and Chicken Curried Tomatoes Asparagus and Pimiento Salad Lady Baltimore Cake Coffee

Canape of Red Caviar Planked Lamb Steak with Beets Potato Balls Endive and Tomato Salad Lemon Spanish Cream Cookies Coffee

Clam Bisque Baked Ham Macaroni Tomato Sauce Boiled Cauliflower Waldorf Salad Cherry Pie Coffee

The cake must, of course, be covered with white frosting—whether it's a loaf or a layer cake. Then the decorations on top of angelic, candied cherries, or other symbols will stand out beautifully.

Sunday school 9:45 (Matthew 10: 1-42) H. E. Smith, Supt.

The establishment of our Lord's Kingdom was indeed upon a small scale. It was the first 12 apostles who were sent out. Beyond human expectation the number of workers and disciples grew until approximately 600 million or one-third of the earth's population are disciples of Christ at this present time. What a mighty army that grew and increased from the small group in Christ's day.

Morning worship, 11, sermon, "The Glory of Weakness." We have been inclined to associate glory with strength, power and triumph. That seems the more logical way. However if one's weakness is linked with the strength and might of God, there may be glory in abundant amounts there. The frailty and weakness of man may be the open door for God to enter in with His infinite wisdom and omnipotence.

To Christian churches, of liturgical practices the period between Epiphany and Lent is bridged by numbers as Septuagesima (seventy), Sexagesima (sixty) and Quinquagesima (fifty). They are not exactly seventy, sixty and fifty days before Easter, but so named because each falls in the decade of the number by which they are known. The Resurrection of Christ was the great and important fact to the early church. All events were marked in relation to it. The period between Septuagesima and Lent is sometimes called the "Pre-Lenten season."

Through The Microphone

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The fiction writer's conception of the romantic life that is led by the average radio operator is not very far wrong, according to Rudolph L. Duncan, President of the R. C. A. Institutes, where budding radio men are trained.

"There is scarcely a month goes by but that I am called upon to furnish a capable radio operator, preferably a youngster in search of real adventure," Mr. Duncan declares. "The latest call is for an expedition about to explore the Sepik River of New Guinea, where white men have never been before. Here we have tropical jungles, savages, and plenty of wild animals, in violent contrast to icy wastes, uninhabited expanses, and the terrible silence of Little America, where an operator is now working for Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd."

Mr. Duncan points out that all expedition nowadays want radio included in their equipment so that they may keep in touch with the outside world.

"There is plenty of adventure for the lad who goes along with an expedition," says Mr. Duncan. "I hasten to add, however, that only the most competent are chosen. Thousands of miles from nearest civilization is no place to try to learn radio. The operator must know his code and equipment thoroughly, for the lives of the expedition may sometimes depend upon his slender thread of communication."

Addresses by national leaders in education will be broadcast by the National Broadcasting Company from the annual convention of the Department of Superintendence of the National Education Association in Atlantic City, N. J., Tuesday night, February 25.

A FAMOUS NAME . . . A FINER CAR
means that Pontiac value has been increased...

THE New Series Pontiac Big Six is called "a finer car with a famous name."

This means that the intrinsic value for which Pontiac has always been famous reaches new heights in the New Series Six. It means that new-type rubber engine supports make Pontiac's big, 60-horsepower engine smoother than ever. It means that a new steering mechanism, acting on roller bearings, gives Pontiac still greater ease of control. Its big, improved, internal, non-squeak four-wheel brakes are now safer and more dependable than ever. There is smart new styling in its bodies by Fisher. It has a new sloping windshield that lessens headlight glare. And improved Lovejoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers, at no extra cost, give big car riding ease.

If you are in the market for a low-priced six that combines fine performance and attractive style with assurance of enduring satisfaction—do not fail to see the New Series Pontiac Big Six—a finer car with a famous name!

Prices, $745 and up. F. O. B. Pontiac, Mich., plus delivery charges. Shock absorbers standard equipment. Bumpers and spring covers at slight extra cost. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

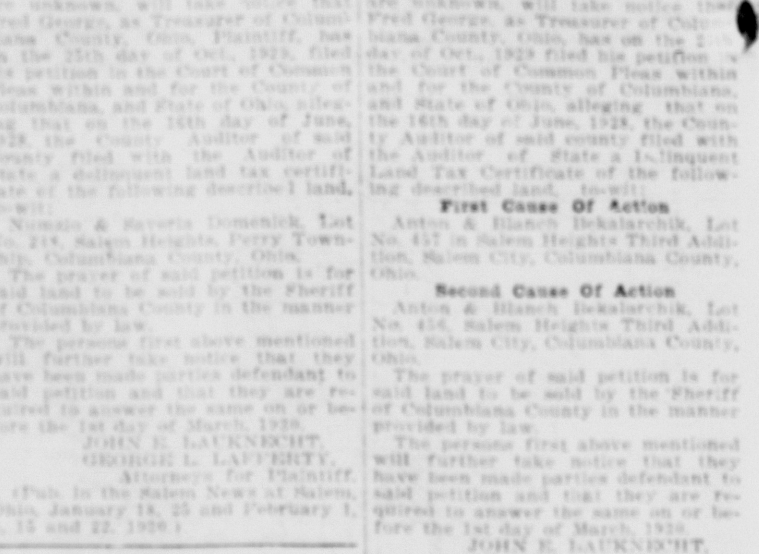

Consider the delivered price as well as the list (F. O. B.) price when comparing automobile values. . . . Oakland-Pontiac delivered prices include only authorized charges for freight and delivery and the charge for any additional accessories or financing desired.

Washington's Birthday

Is recognized in every state and territory as a holiday truly national, because it is the birthday of the man who, more than any other, made the nation possible.

When we remember it, we pay tribute to the faith, the courage and the governmental ideals which are the nation's heritage, and which must be preserved if the United States is to endure.

OHIO LAW OPINIONS

By Gilbert Bettman, Attorney General

SYLLABUS: No. 1508. A public road within a township which has not been established as a county road or as a state highway, remains a township road. The fact that such highway leads to a state institution and the state owns land on either side thereof for half a mile in no wise affects its status.

No. 1509. The director of education is empowered by authority of section 7651, general code, to prescribe standards for first, second and third grade high schools, in addition to those prescribed by sections 7652, 7652-1, and 7653, general code.

No. 1513. When a corporation is engaged in the business of making loans under a plan whereby the borrower is made the payee of a $100.00 note executed by two-third parties which note is sold to such corporation for $90.00 and is payable $10.00 per month at the office of the corporation under an agreement whereby there is a rebate of $2.12 at the time of the last payment, such corporation is engaged in the business of making loans on indorsed notes at a charge or rate of interest in excess of eight per cent per annum as provided in section 6346-1, general code, and should be licensed as provided in sections 6346-2 and 6346-3, general code.

No. 1516. Where a person draws or makes a check in violation of section 710-176 of the general code, in Marion county, and mails it to

Crawford county, the venue of the offense is in Marion county, but the venue of the offense of uttering and delivering such check is in Crawford county, where the latter is received.

No. 1517. The amount of the fee to be charged by the county recorder for filing an assignment of a chattel mortgage is the amount provided for the filing of the original mortgage and in addition thereto, six cents for each party to the assignment.

No. 1520. Where a county is co-operating with the director of highways in the construction or reconstruction of a state highway under the provisions of section 1191, general code, and no assessments are to be levied either by the state or the county, no notices are required to be given, excepting, of course, public notice of the taking of bids and any notices required in connection with the condemnation proceedings to acquire land used in connection with the project.

No. 1521. Where a lessee of an easement in state reservoir lands acting pursuant to the authority of said lease, constructs a causeway as a permanent improvement on lands of the state connecting the outer bank of the lake with an island therein, such causeway upon the termination of the lease by cancellation or otherwise, becomes the property of the state, in the absence of a provision of the lease reserving the property rights in said causeway to said lessee or to his assigns and if it is now determined that the interests of the public in the use of the lands and waters of the lake require the repair and maintenance of said causeway, this may be done by the conservation division provided for by amended senate bill No. 131 enacted by the 88th general assembly, out of any funds available therefor.

Skyscraper Balks Suicide Attempts

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—One of the biggest of San Francisco's skyscrapers has solved the problem of how to prevent suicides from its towering terraces.

Specially made locks have been strung to all windows so that strangers coming into the building to end their lives find themselves balked.

It is assumed a tenant explained, that none of the tenants would jump out of a window.

Building superintendents expect a cycle of suicides when one happens, it was said. In the financial district of San Francisco six persons leaped to death from high buildings, three from one and three from another, with each suicide alternating between buildings.

Alliance Stops Salem High

Wilcoxon-Coached Five Too Fast For Stonemen In Hard-Fought Game

Alliance High toppers made it two straight over Salem High for the 1929-30 basketball season and stopped the Red and Black's five-game winning streak by a 26-17 score at Alliance Friday night.

After holding the home toppers to a 9-9 score in the first half, Salem's attack collapsed in the third quarter and allowed the Red and Black to amass a 5-point lead after which it coasted to an easy verdict in the final period.

Alliance's defensive combination was far too powerful for the weak offensive tactics as displayed by the Stonemen. Bill Smith, who started at forward and later switched to guard, was the only Salem flipper able to score with any consistency. He tallied four field goals and three fouls and led the scoring.

Score Tied At Half

Alliance held a 6-5 score at the end of the first period but Salem knotted the count at 9-all for half time. While the Red and Black was able to score only four points in the third session, Alliance lads broke loose and scored nine and then added eight more to Salem's four in the fourth quarter.

Scoring was evenly divided among the Alliance lads while Smith, who registered all but one of Salem's field baskets, was the leading scorer for the visitors.

It was the second straight victory of the season for George Wilcoxon's lads over the Salem varsity.

Reserves Lose, 15-14

Salem reserves lost a hard-fought contest to Alliance reserves in the preliminary, the game going into a three-minute overtime session before the verdict was awarded to the home flippers by a 15-14 score.

The game was close throughout with neither team holding any advantage. The half ended 9-9 while the count at regulation time was 14-14.

Salem was leading, 14-12, with less than a minute to play when Headley tied the count and forced it into an extra session. L. Johnson's toss from the free throw line was the winning point for Alliance.

Alliance Masonic Teams Beat Salem

Salem Masons dropped two straight tenpin match series to Alliance bowlers in the Masonic inter-city league here this week. Salem's No. 1 team lost by 31 while the No. 2 quintet was defeated by a majority of 167 stocks.

A series of ten addresses will be made in the D. A. R. program, the first of which will be on February 27, when General Henry J. Reilly, former editor of the Army and Navy Journal, will speak on "The Why and Wherefore of National Defense."

The following week, ex-Senator George Wharton Pepper of Pennsylvania, will speak to the country on "George Washington, his views and their Value to Present Day Problems."

On March 13, Richard Washburn Child, former ambassador to Italy, will speak, and in succeeding weeks Senator Thomas J. Walsh (D) of Montana, and Rep. Ruth Hanna McCormick, now an aspirant for the senate seat held by Senator Deneen (R) of Illinois, will make addresses. The rest of the ten weeks' program is now being arranged.

The weekly addresses will be delivered on Thursday evenings, starting at 7:30 o'clock, eastern standard time.

The program marks the first venture of the daughters into the national air field. The sole purpose, according to the officers, is to disseminate "American Ideals" and the fundamental principles upon which the Republic was founded.
